

Jamal Akabli, born to Amazigh parents on the Middle Atlas Mountains in Morocco, has been teaching for 15 years now. He is currently a professor assistant at King Fahd School of Translation in Tangier, Abdelmalek Essaadi University, Tetouan. His main areas of interest range from postcolonial discourse to performance arts passing through translation studies.